SUPPORT

I loved my time in Spoleto at the Mahler & Lewitt Studios. We came together as strangers and all left as family. The time and freedom to work and to be inspired by the work of others wasn't a situation I've been in before, but I hope to have more experiences like that. We were a group who have very different experiences and backgrounds and come from different places but formed a deep bond and that inspired my work there.

— Lonnie Holley, Artist in Residence

It is difficult to summarize the magic that is Spoleto and the Mahler & LeWitt studios: endless sites to return to for close looking, just steps from the studio. Walking, looking, and working in the solitude of the cool and quiet studio... there is nothing like it. I left with countless images that I will be using for months, if not years, to create new work.

— Miranda Lichenstein, Artist in Residence

OUR MISSION

Drawing on the legacies of Anna Mahler and Sol LeWitt, as well as the unique cultural heritage of Spoleto and the region, the Mahler & LeWitt Studios and its communities provide research and development opportunities for curators, writers and artists of all disciplines. Understanding the arts as a key driver for social change, our program empowers artists by encouraging experimentation, providing contexts for intergenerational exchange and mentorship, and promoting youth engagement through our Schools Program. As well as Residencies, we provide artists with sustained support through our Projects and Publications, with the intention of bringing new work, developed in Spoleto, to international audiences.

WHY DONATE?

We currently work with up to thirty individuals a year across four residency sessions. Fully-funded education and research initiatives such as those provided by the Mahler & LeWitt Studios are rare and in demand, needing support now more than ever. Our process-led rather than goals-led approach has garnered the program an international reputation: we understand the environment artists need to flourish and nurture future-thinking work. As an Association, however, our program depends on the generous donations of our Friends and Patrons, our Director's Circle, as well as grants from foundations and other funding bodies. Your donations, then, make our impactful work possible.

HOW TO DONATE

The Mahler & LeWitt Studios is a charity registered in Italy (Associazione Socio Culturale) with 501(c)3 fiscal status via the Mahler Foundation for tax effective giving in the US. We have three levels of support – Friends, Patrons and the Director's Circle. Donor benefits are outlined below. Pledges of any amount promised over a three to five year period help us to plan the program more effectively.

Director's Circle	Patrons	Friends
10,000 USD+ (8,500€+)	3,000 USD+ (2750€+)	350 USD+ (325€+)

DONOR BENEFITS

In recognition of your support we offer a number of benefits:

Friends

Receive a specially commissioned artist edition.
Copies of our publications. Exclusive invitations to our events in Spoleto, London or New York.
An acknowledgement on our website and in our printed material.

Patrons

Patrons receive all of the benefits of a Friend and are offered opportunities for bespoke events such as studio visits with artists. We will regularly update you on program developments.

Director's Circle

Supporters donating at this band can participate in a regular dialogue with the Directors, enabling a close relationship with all the activities of the studios.
